TARIFF COMMISSION

HELD FIRST SESSION HERE

Representations of The Edmonton Board of Trade and Farmer's Organizations

The tariff commission opened a session this morning at 10 o'clock in the council chamber. The members of the commission are Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance; Hon. L. P. Broderick, Minister of Inland Revenue; and Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs. Hon. Wm. Templeton, Victoria, was also present with the commission.

Premier Rutherford was invited by Hon. Mr. Fielding to sit with them. There was a fair attendance at the session.

F. T. FISHER

The first gentleman called upon was F. T. Fisher, secretary of the Edmonton board of trade. Mr. Fisher presented a memorial from the board of trade, setting forth the attitude of the board on the question of the tariff. The resolution is reproduced elsewhere in full.

AMOS DOUPE

Mr. Amos Doupe, of Wetaskiwin, was the next speaker. He represented a deputation of farmers from Wetaskiwin, and presented an address, opposing any reduction in the tariff on the ground that its maintenance would tend to develop the home market. This document stated the belief of the framers that the tariff should be increased in some cases. Others of the deputation who supported Mr. Doupe were Frank Lucas and Dave Morrison, of Wetaskiwin.

D. W. WARNER

The Alberta Farmers' Association was represented by President D. W. Warner, Secretary R. Shepherd, and others. Mr. Warner spoke first. He had come from the old country and believed that he had left all combines of corporations behind. But he was sorry to see they were also to be found in Canada. The farmers had felt that the protection they wished was that manufacturers should be made to compete, instead of being allowed to get behind a tariff wall and form combines. They were not, however, asking that the tariff be completely abolished. Duties imposed on anything they bought retarded the growth of the country and they wanted a tariff reduction in the direction of tariff for revenue only.

In regard to lumber, it was his opinion that it was unnecessary to raise the tariff on lumber. The people of the Northern States were desperately afraid of the Canadian forests. Their own forests were exhausted and they were forced to go south for their lumber.

The secretary of the association then read the resolutions passed at a recent meeting of the association.

W. F. STEVENS

W. F. Stevens, of Clover Bar, also spoke as a member of the delegation. He had been asked to speak in regard to the effect of the tariff on agricultural implements, and thought that there was no need of additional protection. In some lines Canadian manufacturers equaled those of the United States, and had almost an exclusive monopoly of the trade. In regard to farm wagons, self-blinders and other lines of machinery, Canadian manufactured implements were superior to American makes. In regard to stubble plows, he admitted that the American plow was superior to the Canadian plow, but no additional protection was required in this line, as all that was required was for Canadian manufacturers to bring their implements up to a standard equal to the American implement. No American seed-drills had been brought into Canada by incoming settlers. The brush plow of the Canadian manufacturer largely outsold the American brush plow.

Regarding the hog market, it was owing to the inferior quality of local bacon, and not owing to the low duty, that such a great quantity of American bacon was used here.

J. T. FLETCHER

J. Fletcher of Ellersley, one of the deputation also spoke chiefly of the tariff regarding lumber. The B. C. lumbermen, he thought, had sufficient protection. They made a good deal more money on their lumber permits than a miller in Alberta could from his cut mill. They could hold their lumber permits merely by fulfilling the regulations of the government, no matter whether they opened a planing mill or not. The farmers here could not afford to use lumber at $42 a thousand, when only getting 23 cts. a board foot. They would be glad of anything the government could do to give them cheaper lumber. They had been forced to use inferior lumber for houses long enough. They were also paying too much for their sporting rifles and ammunition. They had to buy them from American firms, because there were no good ones manufactured in Canada.

THE SIDE OF THE CASE

It was expressed in editorial circles today that the announcement in the press that the merchants of Vancouver and Victoria had decided to boycott the Canadian Pacific railway, owing to the failure of the company to comply with the demands of coast jobbers for lower freight rates on goods shipped into the interior.

The competition in the case is in reality a struggle between Winnipeg and Vancouver wholesalers and the possibility of the granting of the demand by the company would cause instant interest in this city.

Local railway men are reluctant to speak for publication on this subject, the opinion of representatives of the company being that nothing could be added to the telegram of Fourth Vice-President Bosworth already printed.

There is a natural division between British Columbia and Alberta which no human skill can ever overcome," said a local official to the Free Press reporter. "The Rocky mountains will forever act as a hindrance of trade between the Pacific coast and interior provinces of Canada. The natural market for Vancouver and Victoria wholesalers, no confirmed, is in British Columbia, and the natural market for Winnipeg jobbers, is in the area of country between this city and the Rockies. Suppose you had to depend on the prairie schooner for transportation. In that case Winnipeg would send goods as far west as the mountains from the east and Vancouver would send goods as far as the mountains from the west. No trading company operating prairie schooners from the east or the west could ever hope to do business across the mountains. The fact that railway lines are built across the natural impediment does not substantially alter the situation. The steep grades are there, just as they always were, and always will be. Trains can be operated at a low cost to Calgary. But as soon as you enter the mountains the situation at once undergoes a change. The cost of operating freight trains through the mountains is exceedingly heavy and will always be heavy. It is doubtful if there is any more costly railway work in the world than that through the Rockies, and all this must be paid for. It is scarcely credible that the conservative business men of the west are involved in this proposed boycott. These men must be given credit for good judgment, and we cannot believe that they would be guilty of making an unreasonable demand.

The entire subject of the rates to interior points from the coast was recently before the railway commission. Vancouver and Victoria jobbers presented their case and the company made their reply. Subsequently the company filed additional papers on the matter. The subject is now before the commission and the natural thing to do would be to await the judgment of the authorities. If the decision went against the company and the company refused to comply with it, then some action might be taken by the jobbers concerned. But until the decision of the railway commission is rendered such action would appear to be altogether premature.

It is also obvious that great harm would be done to Vancouver itself should the boycott go into effect. A reduction in the freight carried by the company would mean a reduction in the train crews and a reduction all round in the wages paid out by the railway. It is obvious that merchants along the line would instantly suffer from such a boycott and the general public would be losers to an even larger extent than the company. It is perfectly clear that coast jobbers should have waited until the commission had made its decision and we would not be greatly surprised to find that the statements were more a newspaper story than anything else."

Assistant Freight Traffic Manager P. W. Peters, returned yesterday from Montreal where the present difficulty arose and was in consultation there with eastern officials regarding the matter.

When interviewed on the subject he stated that the telegram sent from Montreal on December 1 by Mr. G. M. Bosworth, the fourth vice-president of the company, which appeared in the Vancouver Province of the 1st, and was copied in the Free Press of the 7th, explained the company's position on this matter, and he had nothing further to add to it.

When asked regarding the application made by the coast jobbers to the railway commission at their session on the coast last September, Mr. Peters said that the Canadian Pacific railway company had at the request of the commission, filed their reply to the application, stating their position very fully, filing copies of all tariffs in effect on their line, and in similar territory on the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways, and a copy of this reply was forwarded to the Vancouver and Victoria boards of trade, but no decision has yet been given by the railway commission.

"As the jobbing trade of the coast has increased during the past year," Dr. Peters replied that it had increased very considerably, and he hoped it would continue to increase as the interior of British Columbia developed, and that the Canadian Pacific was doing everything in its power to encourage such development.

R. Marpole, superintendent of the Pacific coast division is still in the city today. Being interviewed by the Free Press representative, he stated that the natural market of Vancouver merchants was in British Columbia, and that the railway company was doing everything in its power to develop that country. The cost of operating trains through the mountains was excessive and freight rates would always be high eastward from the coast to Calgary and Edmonton.

ALBERTA SCHOOL ENDOWMENT FUND

Mr. W. M. Ingram, commissioner of school lands, has completed his tour in the west in connection with the auction sales of school lands which have been held in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Sales had previously been held in Saskatchewan, but this was the first sale of school lands in Alberta, and the result in this province, in starting a school endowment fund, was in every way satisfactory, realizing a total for the purpose of $1,394,366, which will go for the maintenance of the schools. The exceptionally high average of $115.00 per acre was realized.

The commissioner says that he and his party met with very kind people everywhere and were used in the very best manner. The sales were satisfactory to all concerned, and the way in which they were held seems to have met with perfect approval. The staff accompanying the commissioner was composed of Mr. T. C. Norris, of Graveland, Man., auctioneer; Mr. W. T. Rollins, of Ottawa, clerk of the sales, and Mr. J. C. Robinson, of Winnipeg, settlement clerk of sales. The party had an escort from the Northwest Mounted Police with them during the sales, which were useful in many respects.

The sales in Alberta were attended by a goodly number of people; and the land was purchased to a great extent, by farmers in the vicinity; very few, if any, speculators being present at the sales.

About two months were spent in conducting the sales. During all the time the party were in Alberta, the weather was magnificent, the climate being just like summer nearly up to the time when the commission left.

Mr. Norris was unable to attend the sales at Yorkton and Saltcoats in Saskatchewan, and the commissioner had to do the auctioneering himself. The terms of payment are very reasonable, only one-fourth of the amount being required at the time of purchase, and the remaining nine-tenths being payable in equal annual instalments, the portion unpaid bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

Ten sales were held in Alberta. About 300,000 acres of school lands were offered, and in the ten sales 120,782 acres were sold. The amount realized from these sales was $1,394,366, which was an average price of $11.55 an acre. The highest price paid at any point was paid at Calgary where $61.50 per acre was paid for a half section. The record sale was made at High River, south of Calgary, where two hundred parcels were offered and there was realized from the sale $355,000, the average being about $15 per acre.

Two sales were held in Saskatchewan: at Yorkton about 200 parcels were offered, and about $80,000 sold; and at Saltcoats the figures were about the same, the average for both being $8.77 per acre. The number of acres sold in Saskatchewan was 18,786, and the total amount realized therefrom was $164,791.

AMAY FILL IN THE GAP

Montreal, Dec. 6.—It is now estimated that within the next three years Montreal will be connected with the Canadian West by three great lines of railway. Early next summer the Canadian Northern will begin at several points the construction of that section of their transcontinental line lying between Port Arthur and this city.

A cable from London from Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern, announces that the recent financial operations, by which the company secured $5,000,000, were satisfactory. A part of this money will be devoted to the building of the section of the Canadian Northern between Montreal and Port Arthur.

Three years ago when Mackenzie & Mann contemplated the building of their line north of Lake Superior, engineers were placed in the field and a preliminary survey made of the route. Now a staff is again on the ground, and it is announced that the survey is pretty well completed. It has been stated by an official of the Canadian Northern that the line would probably be located between the route of the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Pacific. This, when the three lines are completed, will obviate all danger of grain blockades.

Another statement has been made to the effect that the Canadian Northern will, at an early date, enter upon the construction of a new line between the cities of Montreal and Toronto, taking in Ottawa. This was intimated recently by Mr. Buck, the solicitor of the road, before the railway commission and it has been confirmed since.

BOARD OF TRADE

PRESENTED A MEMORIAL

Text of a Memorandum Placed Before the Commission Setting Forth the Views of the Board

Following is a copy of the memorial presented to the tariff commission by the board of trade this morning:

"At a recent meeting of the council of the Edmonton board of trade, we were instructed by resolution to convey to your commission, an expression of opinion from this body as to the proposed revision of the existing customs tariff, as set forth in the following memorial:

"While it is admitted that customs duties are necessary for revenue purposes, and that a certain amount of protection to Canadian industries may be advantageous, it is maintained that there is a limit beyond which protective tariffs cannot be carried without unduly and unfairly pressing upon the consumer for the benefit of the manufacturer. It is maintained that that limit has at least been reached, if not already passed. An examination of the tariff schedule shows practically every line of goods manufactured in Canada to be protected from foreign competition by various rates of duty, which should be ample to enable well conducted industrial enterprises to control the home market.

"It is pointed out that Alberta in common with other Western provinces, is not a manufacturing community. Production consists almost entirely of natural resources, rather than manufactured articles. Almost every article that enters into the daily consumption of our population, is either brought from Great Britain or some foreign country or from Eastern Canada (except in a very few instances, articles of daily consumption are not made in this province. Experience has shown and it is now generally admitted, that whatever the theory of protective tariffs may be in practice, the Canadian manufacturer usually takes full advantage of the tariff, and to matter how high the tariff is, the cost of Canadian made goods to the Canadian consumer is about the cost at which similar goods could be paid down from foreign countries, after paying the duties. So that, so far as the consumer is concerned whether he uses goods of domestic or foreign manufacture, he pays an enhanced price equal to that of the duty.

"By reason of the necessarily heavy transportation charges owing to the large land, the cost of every kind of goods used by the people of this section of the Dominion is already considerably enhanced, as compared with the cost of the same goods in the residents of the Eastern Provinces. It is felt that the only result of any increase of duty on any line of goods whatever, as far as this Western community is concerned, is to further increase the cost and the people of this section could not view such an increase in taxation, for which they would get no adequate or counterbalancing advantage. So far as this section is concerned, there is no local industry, which is subjected to such a protection, that it is in need of increased protection to enable it to successfully carry on business.

"It is a fact that a large country of great natural resources and almost unlimited possibilities. But to reach proper development it needs more people on the millions of acres of rich agricultural lands at present uncultivated, with which we are surrounded. It is essential that these farmers, established here, which means nearly the whole producing class of the community, should be able to conduct their operations under conditions which would enable them to become successful and prosperous. One of the unsatisfactory conditions invariably suffered by settlers newly from the eastern provinces or states, is the high cost of nearly all necessities, owing to heavy freight charges incident to a long haul from the east. These would mean still higher cost to the western consumer, aggravating the principal unfavorable condition referred to and would seriously retard development.

"It is greatly regretted that owing to the short time at the disposal of council in which to prepare a case, the fact that figures and statistics are not readily available here, and that the members of this council are not familiar with the conditions that have been advanced before your commission, by those interested in securing higher protective duties, this memorial must deal with the questions of tariff revision in general terms. There are a few instances, however, which have come to the notice of your memorialists, however, which might be referred to specifically.

FRUIT

"It is understood that it has been represented that duties on certain kinds of fruit should be increased. It is pointed out that at the present time the area of Canada producing fruit is comparatively limited, much the greater portions of the Dominion producing none at present. Here in the West practically all fruit used is brought from large distances, and the cost to the consumer is very high by reason of heavy transportation charges. Increased duties on such fruit as it is now found necessary to import would tend to render the cost prohibitive to the Alberta consumer. It is understood that fruit growers in the neighboring province of British Columbia are ready to sell at remunerative prices for all fruit of good quality, properly packed. It is not considered desirable that consumers in neighboring areas should be forced to accept fruit which would not be of the same fine quality, or that the already high cost should be still further enhanced.

COTTON GOODS

"It is understood that manufacturer-

ers of cotton, ducks, drills and other cotton fabrics have asked for increased duties. It is considered that the present duty of 25 to 30 per cent on these goods should be ample to enable Canadian manufacturers to hold the Canadian trade. Any increase of duties on these lines is taken strong exception to by local manufacturers of tents, awnings, mattresses, etc., who claim that their industry would be seriously injured by any increase in the cost of what is their raw material.

"In view of the foregoing facts the council of the Edmonton board of trade assembled in a meeting held on the 8th day of December, called for the purpose of considering the action to be taken before your commission, passed a resolution to the effect that:

"In the opinion of this council, it would be detrimental to the best interests of the great territory of which Edmonton is the business centre, that there should be any increase in customs duties; and that the proposed duty of 25 per cent on these goods is particularly opposed."

"The tariff commission is therefore respectfully asked to give careful consideration to this expression of opinion, and to set forth above."

ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION

President Delivers His Annual Address and the Meeting Adjourns Until Jan 8th

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition Association was held in the office of the secretary yesterday. There was a fair attendance. The annual financial statement was read and the president's address delivered. The meeting was adjourned until January 8th when the election of officers will take place and the general business of the association completed for the year. It is understood another offer to purchase the exhibition grounds has been made and this will come up at the adjourned meeting.

Following was the address delivered by President Donald Ross:

"Gentlemen: As president of this association it devolves upon me to make a few remarks as to what has been done by your directors during the past year.

"As a matter of fact they had rather a blindfold proposition, or rather propositions to tackle. In the first place, acting in accordance with the resolution adopted at our last general meeting, they offered to the city for the sum of $30,000, the grounds of the association for park or recreation purposes. This the city council with an ingenuity and fertility of imagination in discovering objections to even seriously entertaining the offer, or putting it before the ratepayers for their opinion upon the matter, completely turned it down. However since then, public opinion has been asserted, with a result of a complete change of base in the matter, and will be a subject of consideration at this meeting. The experience of your directors led them to know that an exhibition worthy of Edmonton could not be put on without a serious financial loss unless very substantial aid was had from the outside.

Various schemes were discussed, attraction contracts were made subject to ratification and a coupon of the difficulty at last was found in the city assuming all shortages pertaining to the exhibition to the amount of $5,000, the prize list and attractions to be at least equal to those of the year previous. This shortage you will find from the report of the secretary treasurer to be something over $2,700, the association at the same time assuming a certain amount classed as permanent improvements.

"Before closing I wish to testify to the agreeable and willing manner in which all the directors have worked to make the fair a grand success. Sacrificing their time and convenience as they do, either as members of a committee or individually in charge of a department, they spare neither trouble or inconvenience to attain the end in view—an attractive and successful fair, and as such are entitled to the thanks and appreciation of the public."

THE JUDGE WON.

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—Judgment has been given in the Exchequer court in the case of Crown against Judge Dugas, Talon. The judge drew $4,216 for a year and a half for house rent, fuel and light. During the same time he was drawing between two and three thousand a year for living allowance. The Government held that they were not liable for both items and took suit to recover $4,216. Justice Burbridge, gave judgment in favor of Judge Dugas and against the Government.

George Long, of Sturgeon, Wm. Laing, of Strathcona, and E. Richardson, of East Edmonton, also spoke.

CHAS. BURNELL

Charles Burnell, representing the Canadian branch of the American Society of Equity, addressed the commission. The society especially protested against a general reduction of the present tariff, and also against placing a tariff on lumber. Lumber was one of the things mostly needed in Alberta.

P. S. Mitchell also spoke, supporting Mr. Burnell. He said the immigration of desirable settlers was retarded by the fact that everything necessary to ordinary living was so expensive.

Mr. John McLennan, of Edmonton, spoke against the imposition of the tariff on lumber.

HUDSON'S BAY RAILWAY

A Mossonic dispatch to the Regina Leader says:

Hon. Frank Oliver made the following reference to the Hudson's Bay plank in Mr. Haultain's platform. The people of Mossonic being among the most prosperous of the province, may be counted on to weigh well any proposition that is likely to involve the province in a heavy expenditure and thus increase the burden of taxation upon the people. The only plank in Mr. Haultain's platform that pertained to provincial issues was his proposal with reference to the construction of a railroad to Hudson's Bay at the expense of the people of the west. Railroad development in Western Canada had been carried on by the Dominion Government and he thought they had done extremely well in that respect. In the last few years the Canadian Northern had been constructed, the main line to Edmonton and the northern branch to Prince Albert. They were enabled to do this because the Federal Government recognized that upon the Federal Parliament devolved the responsibility of providing the western provinces with railway facilities. The Grand Trunk project was also well under way, supported by and on the guarantee of the Dominion Government. The Dominion Government had pledged the credit of the country for upwards of one hundred millions of dollars within the last five years in order to provide the west with needed railway transportation and the result of this policy had been the development of the country as it had never developed before. There was still a demand for increased transportation facilities from the people of the west. They wanted a railroad to Hudson's Bay and Mr. Haultain in the only provincial plank in his platform proposed that this road should be built at the expense of the western people, on the supposition that the east would never consent to the Dominion carrying on the work.

This supposition had no foundation as far as the present Government of the Dominion was concerned. The policy of that Government as shown up its work during the last five years, was to provide the west with the most complete railway facilities that geographical and financial conditions permitted, without regard to special interests in either East or West, on the one foundation principle that whatever tended to the development of the west was for the greatest good of Canada. The financial burden which would be laid upon the province by Mr. Haultain's proposals would be so great that the electors would not and could not afford to accept it. Five hundred miles of railway, costing say $20,000 a mile, would cost $10,000,000, which at four per cent, came to $400,000 a year, or more than a third of the revenue of the province. The proposition only needed to be stated to show that it was not made with any expectation of its being accepted by the people or of securing the building of the road. The endorsement of the Haultain proposal would mean the relief of the Dominion Government from the responsibility of the construction of that railway so far as the people of Saskatchewan were concerned or would mean that the prospect of a railway to the Bay would be indefinitely postponed.

The Scott Government realizes the desirability of the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway. But it also recognizes that past and present Dominion Governments have accepted that as a Dominion responsibility and they propose to hold the Dominion to it. Sectional and special interests no doubt held back the late Federal Government from pushing the Hudson's Bay railway, as they held it back from giving the west any measure of relief from railway monopoly during fifteen long and weary years. But no such interests have held back the present Government from giving the fullest possible railway facilities on lines running east and west, nor will they hold it back from giving in due time the additional facilities that the circumstances call for on lines running north and south, whether those lines have their terminals on the Hudson's Bay Hill system at the international on the north or connect with the boundary line to the south.

TARIFF COMMISSION IN CALGARY

Calgary, Dec. 11.—The tariff commission, held a session in Calgary yesterday afternoon. The meeting of the commission was a very interesting one and a very important one.

C. W. Peterson, secretary of the Calgary board of trade, read the resolution passed by the board some months ago, favoring a duty upon rough lumber from the United States provided there was some manner of guarantee that the price on that account would not be increased.

This action was taken at the instigation of British Columbia lumbermen and caused but little discussion. Mr. Fielding asked Mr. Peterson what guarantee that the price would not be increased would be satisfactory. Mr. Peterson referred to a precedent in the dumping regulations.

In introducing the proposed change in the tariff recommended by the Horse Breeders, Mr. Peterson, the secretary, presented the following memorandum.

Copy of Resolution passed by the Alberta Horse Breeders' Association on Nov. 15th, 1905.

"That the tariff commission be requested to provide that all purchased animals brought into Canada should be first registered in the Canadian National Record and that copies of all certificate forms be kept on file at every customs office."

"That the attention of the tariff commission be called to the advisability of applying the same regulations on purchased animals coming into Canada from the United States as the latter country apply to Canada."

Mr. Peterson further explained that the horse breeders did not ask for protection, but they did ask for prohibition of certain classes of horses in order to insure the purity of the animals. They did not wish to interfere with the working of immigration department, but they believed that it would be greatly to the benefit of the horse breeders of the West if inferior mares should be exempted from the list of free goods that might be brought into the country as settlers effects.

In reply to Mr. Fielding, Mr. Peterson said that there would be no delay in securing registration and that the fee was nominal. In other words, that which they asked was that instead of customs officials sitting in judgment as to the breed of certain animals which were to take advantage of free duty granted to thoroughbred animals, that competent officials of the Department of Agriculture should make the decision. He referred to the fact that inferior animals were being brought into the country which should not be brought in under the clauses proposed.

Mr. Peterson claimed that the interpretation of the customs regulations worked disastrously to Canadian and suggested the same interpretation by the United States regulation read that "purchased animals for breeding purposes." The interpretation was that if animals were sent to breeders and not to the actual breeder that they did not come under such a clause. This seriously interfered with the Canadian breeder, Mr. Peterson gave examples.

Mr. Ellison, manager of the Knight Saddle Company, of Haymarket, also presented a memorandum.

C. P. R. WILL BUILD.

Whitlock, Man., Dec. 8.—Mr. William Whyte, second vice president of the Canadian Pacific is not worrying about the probability of James J. Hill acquiring control of the Canadian Pacific. When told of the rumor at St. Paul, he said: "Oh, that is within the range of possibility, but I hardly think it probable." He continued, "I believe the Soo line will continue building next year. The Canadian Pacific will build several hundred miles in Saskatchewan and Alberta, continuing the pioneer work for which the company is famous. I do not expect any more trouble from James J. Hill's proposed entry into Canada."

"Hill is not entirely pleased with the Soo's action in building across from Thief River Falls to Kenmare, North Dakota. But if the Great Northern man enters into grain carrying competition with the Canadian Pacific he will have to reduce his rates. The Canadian Pacific rate is one cent per hundred pounds less than that of the Great Northern, and farmers will go a long way to save a cent in railroad rates."

"The question of carrying grain via the Hudson's Bay route is exceedingly problematical," he continued. Mr. Whyte complimented the class of Americans who were coming in to fill the land of the Canadian North West. He seemed to feel that enforcement of the Alien Law against American skilled labor for railroad and other work was brought about for political effect and that the agitation had now passed over."

—Watkins Mills sings in McDougall church tomorrow evening.

—An accommodation train with several passengers left yesterday for Vegreville.

—A considerable sum has been raised in Calgary for the relief of the Jews in Russia.

—The ladies of Grace church are holding a bazaar in the lecture room of the church this afternoon and evening.

—A meeting of the executive of the Boy's Brigade will be held in All Saint's school room tonight at 8:30 p.m.

—Mr. Kenneth has leased Mr. Brewster's house on Fifth street west, formerly occupied by Mrs. John Armstrong.

—Municipal elections took place yesterday in all the municipalities in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

—The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held on Wednesday, 14th, at the residence of Mrs. Hanna, First street.

—The second social will be held in All Saint's school room tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is given to all young men and new comers.

—Supreme court at Wetaskiwin was concluded on Saturday, and Chief Justice Sifton returned to Edmonton yesterday. There are still several civil cases for disposal here.

—The ladies of St. Joseph's R. C. church held their monthly social in Robertson's hall on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Pedro party, music recitations will be part of the program. An exhibition of fencing between Sergt. Brutinel and Marchand-Legis D'Arson. All are invited, especially young people and new comers.

—John Newcombe, a young man of about thirty-four, died in the Public Hospital on Saturday from an attack of hemorrhage of the brain. Newcombe came from Carson, Michigan, and has been with a Dominion survey party all summer. He had a home in the Pembina district. His relatives have been communicated with.

—Ernest Denon, a young Englishman, twenty years of age, living with Frank Fradette, 17 miles west of Saskatoon, shot himself through the head last week. He was seen alive by Fradette on Friday in charge of the horse, and on Tuesday was found dead. Seeing blood upon the pillow and thinking something was wrong, he brought his brother and neighbors. They broke in the back door with an axe, and on trying to open the bedroom door found a weight against it which proved to be the body of young Denon, frozen stiff.

—A Macleod despatch says: Constable Robertson, of the R. N. W. M. P., was out all night during the recent severe storm and when he finally reached shelter, was so far gone that he had to be taken to the hospital where he lies in a serious condition. Robertson was trying to make his way from camp in the Porcupine Hills to the headquarters at Pelican, when he was overtaken by the storm. The horse he was riding became exhausted so the constable had to continue on foot. A colored man was also out all night and when found, face, feet and hands were badly frozen. He will recover.

—Medicine Hat Times: The Canadian Pacific are getting their western line into fine condition and there is no doubt they are making every effort to not only hold the trade they now have, but to handle it better and get more. No one need be told that the western trade is increasing by leaps and bounds and railway development in this western province is necessary to keep pace with the growing requirements. The great Northern is expected to push up through this country very soon and this with improved service by the C.P.R. will help considerably in the development of southern Alberta. Calgary hopes to be the objective point of the Great Northern, but Medicine Hat is in the running and is a better point for a railway that is desirous of tapping the northern part of our province. Medicine Hat should work to get this with a view to a line eventually reaching Hudson's Bay.
